(Ft. Lauderdale, FL, October 14) -- Each Thursday from 11:00 A.M. until Noon, global trade and its impact on all aspects of our lives and economy will be the front-and-center topic during Neal Asbury's radio talk show on WZAB-AM 880 The Biz. Asbury, the Small Business Administration's United States National Champion Exporter of the Year for 2008 is a nationally and internationally recognized expert on free trade issues. Expect some strong opinions relating to America's current trade imbalances, mixed with some sound advice to reinvigorate U.S. exports.

"Politicians and main stream media are talking about the economy. You know what they're not talking about?

Solutions to America's staggering and unsustainable trade deficit that would generate millions of American jobs," said Asbury, who is president of Greenfield World Trade in Ft

Lauderdale, Florida that exports American made products to over 130 countries around the world. "On my show, we're getting into the economic issues that most people aren't talking about.

I'll help bring light to the dark side of conversations about exports and trade."
